Explains Important Difference Between Long Term and Short Term Credits

An architect in Washington writes to ask a question. In a previous article I said a depression appears when we stop making goods sold on long-term credits. He wants to know why. He says he fails to see the difference between goods made to be sold on long-term credits and those sold on short-term credits or cash so far as bringing fresh supplies of money into the capitalist system is concerned. It all seems foggy to him.

Negro Woman Is Beaten to Death Near Washington

Acata Adams, 35, Fatally Injured by Blows From Intruder

ACCUSED ARRESTED

Wayne Williams, Another Negro, Is Held in County Jail

Acata Adams, 35-year-old negro woman and mother of three children, was beaten, kicked and stomped to death at her home two miles north of Washington about 9 o'clock Wednesday night, according to Dr. J. H. Weaver, coroner, and Deputy Sheriff Reginald Bearden.

Wayne Williams, negro, about 35, was held in the Washington jail Thursday charged with the murder. Officers described the case as one of the most brutal they had investigated in some time.

The dead negro woman lived alone with her three children, a son, 15, and two small daughters. The husband of the negro woman died several months ago.

Tell of Attack

Coroner Weaver said the three negro children testified that Williams came to their home about 9 o'clock Wednesday night, abused and gagged the mother and then dragged her to the front porch and stomped her. Coroner Weaver said examination of the body showed she had been severely beaten and that death resulted from a broken neck.

The coroner reported that he received a telephone message from the negro Williams about 9 o'clock Wednesday night, saying that the Adams woman had suffered a heart attack and had died.

A few minutes later Weaver received a call from Deputy Sheriff Reginald Bearden, and then the two officers left for the scene. They reported they found the negro woman lying on the front porch—dead.

Officers said they questioned the negro children who told of the attack by Williams on themselves and also that Williams attacked their mother and beat her to death.

Williams Denies Attack

Officers said Williams denied the attack, contending that the Adams woman suffered an heart attack and had fallen on the front porch.

Williams was arrested at the scene and carried to Washington where he was placed in the county jail. The negro woman's body was brought to Hope.

Coroner Weaver said a murder charge would be filed against Williams, and that no inquest was necessary.

The negro children are Charley Adams, 15, Bonnie Ruth, 12, and Fonia Mae Adams, 11.

First Installment Is Paid by Jews

Germany Gets First 5% of Total 20% Fine on Jewish Wealth

BERLIN, Germany.—(AP)—Preparations progressed for payment Thursday of the first of four installments of the $400,000,000 tribute levied by the German government against Jews for the slaying in Paris of Ernst vom Rath, legation secretary.

Jews who protested they did not have the cash and could not raise the amount required—each Jew must pay in the first installment five per cent of his total wealth, in cash if possible—were told to turn in their family jewelry.

With some trouble officials were persuaded to accept securities in lieu of cash. Securities so obtained are being deposited in the Preussische Seehandlungsbank, a state institution, which will convert them gradually.

The $400,000,000 fine is to be paid by an assessment of 20 per cent of the wealth of Germany's Jews. The last of four equal installments is due August 15, 1939.

Campaign Slows Down on Second Day's Drive for Needy

The Goodfellow's Christmas Cheer fund slowed down considerably Thursday as only $29.50 had been reported at noon. This brought the total to $199.95.

Some of the solicitors apparently have not carried out their assignments. Director Roy Anderson urged that the drive for funds be completed this week, as all of next week will be required in purchasing, wrapping and distributing supplies to needy children and families at Christmas time.

Committees, after completing their assignments, are urged to turn their reports over to Max Walker, treasurer, Arkansas Bank & Trust company building.

Persons missed in the canvass may leave their donations at The Star office or at either Hope bank.

LONDON, Eng.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain, in a new and outspoken reference to Germany, told a luncheon audience Thursday that Britain's financial power was a curb on Nazi statesmen when they thought of war.

The prime minister said: "We may take it that when German statesmen—we will not say the German people—reflect on the possible consequences of a conflict, if a conflict should arise between our two countries, they think not only of our armaments but of our great financial resources, which in a war of long duration might prove to be the deciding factor."

Our Own Republic Brings Appreciated Help to the Others

By WILLIS THORNTON

LIMA, Peru.—Some of the best products of good will toward the United States at the Eighth Pan-American Conference are not diplomats. They wear no gold braid, and have no official standing before the conference.

They are a group of American public health physicians of the Pan-American Sanitary Bureau, a co-operative organization maintained by all the American nations to improve sanitation, and prevent and control epidemic diseases in the member countries.

The organization is similar and parallel to the Pan-American Union, but separately organized and maintained.

The 15 years which Dr. John D. Long has given to fighting yellow fever, bubonic plague, and malaria represent services to the people of South America which it would take many a resolution and many a pious speech to equal.

Men like Dr. Edward C. Ernst, Dr. Henry Hanson, Dr. John Murdoch and Dr. Anthony Donovan, his colleagues, are daily fighting back tropic diseases, helping to improve water supply and garbage disposal, saving life.

Dr. Long, veteran of the service, is known from the Canal Zone to the Strait of Magellan, and thousands of South Americans know of a service that is quite outside politics and beyond praise.

Other American public health doctors who co-operate with Dr. Long under the general supervision of President Hugh S. Cumming of the Sanitary Bureau are the leading supervisors in this international work simply because the United States, with longer experience, has more trained men to send into the field than other member countries.

Increasing Value

With fast airplane travel and the gradual opening up of new roads between the American countries, the value of this work becomes greater every year.

Thus the necessity for new controls. Planes entering the United States from the yellow fever belt are now sprayed to kill mosquitoes which might carry the disease.

All employees of the airlines are inoculated.

Effect of Patman Measure Is Cited

Would Destroy Business, Not Regulate It, Says Kroger Head

CINCINNATI, O.—Destructive effect of the so-called Patman Bill on investments in chain store stock was pointed out recently in a letter to the 26,891 stockholders of The Kroger Grocery and Baking Company by Albert H. Morrill, Kroger president.

"Although this bill is designed to destroy, not regulate the chain store industry, we found in a recent survey that only 9 per cent of Kroger stockholders knew of the bill and its threat to their investments. Twenty-two per cent knew vaguely of the bill, and 69 per cent had never heard of it," Morrill wrote.

"By a method of graduated taxes based on the number of stores multiplied by the number of states in which we do business, this tax, if imposed, would levy on the Kroger company, in addition to all other taxes, the fantastic sum of $72,456,000 annually. This is more than double our annual payroll; it is $15,000,000 in excess of our gross assets which have been accumulated during 53 years, and it is 25 times the aggregate of dividends paid in 1937," he continued.

Stressing the seriousness of the Patman Bill threat, Morrill pointed out that "such a tax would wipe out property of thousands of chain store investors, property they have accumulated over a period of years by labor and self-denial. In addition, it would throw 1,200,000 chain store employees and an estimated 4,500,000 dependents on the uncertainty of finding other means of support. Farmers, producers and the vast consuming public, all of whom are benefited by the chain store method of distribution would suffer," Morrill declared.

Federal Funds for Electric Project

Rural Power Lines for Several Southwest Arkansas Counties

TEXARKANA.—The Southwest Arkansas Electric Co-operative corporation of Texarkana, Ark., Wednesday was allotted $267,000 for another rural electric power line project.

This project will be for 228 miles and will serve 889 members in Polk, Sevier, Howard, Hempstead, Miller and Lafayette counties in Arkansas.

In addition, there was a provision for a portion of this allotment to be used for an extension of the Miller county power line into Bowie county, Texas. This line is 170 miles long, serving 300 customers, and radiates from Texarkana.

Construction work on these projects will be started immediately. Jack Davis, co-ordinator for the corporation said. W. E. Williams of Garland is president.

In addition, the local organization now is preparing to map out plans for two more lines and two additional extensions.

One of the new lines planned is to go into western Hempstead county, Nevada county, Columbia county and the portion of Lafayette county that will not be touched by another line, Davis said. This will be 110 miles long. The other line, to be 125 miles long, will serve Ouachita county.

An extension from the line authorized Wednesday will be mapped embracing 50 miles in Pike and northern Hempstead counties.

There will be an extension planned for six miles from Mandeville to Sanderson line.

These power lines cost approximately $1000 a mile, Davis said.
